About DPOR and the Board for Waterworks and Wastewater Works Operators:

The Virginia Department of Professional and Occupational Regulation (DPOR) administers and enforces laws regulating nearly 40 commercial occupations and certain professions. The agency licenses or certifies more than 300,000 individuals and businesses ranging from architects and contractors to cosmetologists and professional wrestlers.

DPOR investigates reports of regulatory violations by licensees; pursues complaints of criminal activity by unlicensed practitioners; responds to business-related consumer inquiries and requests for license checks; administers recovery funds for consumers harmed in contractor or real estate transactions; and conducts mediation services and public awareness campaigns.

The Board for Waterworks and Wastewater Works Operators licenses approximately 5,400 individuals who operate water and wastewater treatment facilities. Licensed operators' duties include testing or evaluation to control waterworks (systems for collection, storage, purification, and treatment of water for drinking or domestic use) or wastewater works (sewerage systems and facilities discharging industrial or other wastes into state waters).
